

38th World Congress of International Society of Hematology
Bangkok, Thailand

Announcement

The Organizing Committee of the ISH 2020 has been constantly monitoring the highly contagious nature of the COVID-19, which has already affected many countries. We are not sure that this pandemic will be over in a short period from now on. Concerning the health and safety of public and those who would travel from all over the world, the 38th World Congress of International Society of Hematology (ISH 2020) must be postponed from September 13-16, 2020.

The new schedule is March 8-10, 2021
at the Centara Grand at CentralWorld, Bangkok.

With this, we sincerely apologize for any inconvenience caused.

See you in March, 2021!
Take care of your health.
